

Transnational Ireland Workshop

7 December 2012

Room 1M.20 William Robertson, Old Medical School,
University of Edinburgh, Teviot Place

'Theory and Transnational Ireland'

10.30 Tea & coffee available

11.00 Session 1 Networks and Information

Niall Whelehan (Edinburgh) 'Irish Agrarian Leagues and the Diaspora: Possibilities for a Network Analysis Approach'

Jonathan Wright (Queen's Belfast) 'Network-Actor Theory, Social Network Analysis and the "Metaphor for Our Times": A Guide by the Perplexed'

12.00 Session 2 Theory and Practice

Ciarán O'Neill (Trinity College Dublin) 'CITTA and "Intercultural Cities"- Trying to Learn Lessons from the Present'

Enda Delaney (Edinburgh) "'Foucault in Fermoy": Knowledge, Power and Writing Transnational History'

13.00 Lunch

13.30 Session 3 Religion and Identity

Sarah Roddy (Manchester) "'It is not in Solitude that Faith is Made": Divisions and Revisions in the Study of Religious Change"

Kevin O'Sullivan (NUI Galway) "'Ah, Ireland. The Caring Nation": History, IR Theory and Small State Identity in the Long 1970s'

14.30 Roundtable Discussion